Conflict Resolution

MEDIATOR TRAINING: October 18 – 28

Metropolitan Mediation Services (MMS) is offering our next 36-hour mediator training course in October 2017 (dates below). MMS trainings teach skills that can enrich lives professionally, in the community, and at home, and open up exciting volunteer opportunities for those who choose to join our panel of volunteer mediators.

Metropolitan Mediation Services (MMS) is a community mediation program which has served Greater Boston communities since 1986. MMS seeks to reduce the pain, stress, damage, and expense of conflict by providing the service of mediators to help those in conflict to have positive and productive conversations. We serve youth, elders, families, neighbors, public and private organizations, schools, and courts. MMS Mediation services are free. We conduct mediations at times and locations conveniently accessible to our clients.

Who Attends? MMS' trainings are extremely well received. These programs are regularly attended by attorneys; social workers; educators; public officials and administrators; those involved in health care; police officers; business people; and consultants; retired people; community organizers and volunteers; among others. MMS has been providing these trainings for over 30 years.

Professional CEU credits: Social Worker CEU, Licensed Mental Health Counselor CEU, and Educator PDP credits are available. These trainings satisfy the training components of qualification standards under the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court Uniform Rules on Dispute Resolution and of MGL Ch. 233 s.23c.

Tuition and Discounts: There is a $115 discount to those registering and paying full tuition by the early-enrollment deadline (dates below). Early-enrollment tuition is $610. Full tuition is $725. Additional "bring-a friend" or group discounts. Some scholarships are available to applicants who will serve as an MMS' volunteer and expand MMS' ability to serve our linguistically, racially, or ethnically diverse communities.
